EDEN SPECTRUM

WHY SPECTRUM?

When the Eden Spectrum was introduced in the early 1990s, its powerful lumbar support contour and distinctive shaped seat quickly made it very popular with computer-users and widely recommended by health professionals.

These same unique features continue to make Spectrum one of New Zealand's most popular office chairs.

The highly crafted upholstery and the full range of ergonomic adjustments mean Spectrum can provide true all-day seated comfort.

GASLIFT HEIGHT

The seat height should be adjusted so your hips are slightly higher than your knees and your feet remain on the floor.

BACKREST ANGLE

The backrest angle adjustment offers a wide range of tilt so you can choose a position to suit. We recommend an upright or slightly backward angle so you can reach your keyboard without stretching.

SEAT ANGLE

You can adjust the angle of your seat to suit your preference. We recommend a slightly forward tilt to allow you to sit close to your work, and minimising pressure under your thighs.

BACK HEIGHT

The backrest has a height travel range of 140mm. Adjust the height so the lumbar support sits comfortably in the curve of your lower back.
